RACE: Regatta Centre Criterium

Somehow the rain stayed away although some pretty huge puddles covered most riders in dirt, especially those who wore white jerseys!

B GRADE

A rather more animated race tonight. The usual suspects did all the attacking with Kim Parslow, Sly Zust, Aaron Brewer, a young French guy (sorry don't know the name) and Mike Stacey being the main protagonists. A number of moves went away for about a lap which was a result of some good counter attacking. The second last move to go revealed some chinks in the bunch's armour as they had some trouble bridging the final 50m to the break. The counter move was the one that stuck - Kim Parslow, Aaron Brewer and the young Frenchman skipped off and put their heads down. Pretty soon they were 400m off the front and it was obvious that this was THE move. Stacey took off to bridge across and almost got there before being joined by Spencer Flugge and A. Nother. These three worked hard for half a lap to make the junction to the front three. There was now half a lap to go but even with the expected shennanigans the break stayed clear although there were only 4 of the 6 left for the sprint. Parslow wound it up to speed and Flugge jumped for victory followed closely by Sly Zust. Steve Moon won the bunch kick close behind.
