RACE: Regatta Crit

The rain stayed away and the wind ended up a cross wind from the SE which made for fast conditions as the trees protect the back straight and the home straight gets the tail wind.

Sly Zust attacked off from the start line with 2 others. After a lap or so, the mob begun to get a bit agitated and Ian Bridges-Webb got across down the home straight with Matt Taylor and another rider. Stacey got across next followed by 2 more within the next kilometer (Steve Moon, Tom Sambrook), making 9 at the front; Jason Lindsay, Ian Bridges-Webb, Sean Brunt, Steve Moon, Jim Brough, Sly Zust, Tom Sambrook and Mike Stacey (someone was dropped early on in the break). The group worked well for the remainder of the race (35km) averaging 42.8kph, no one missing a turn. Two attacks in the final 2km by Stacey were chased down, the final catch being just after the bridge with 400 to go. Sean Brunt immediately saw the opportunity, and using the downhill run off the bridge combined with good timing, launched himself into the final run for the line. The chasers legs were pretty burnt by now and he hung on for a well deserved win.
