Friendly and competitive cycling for all ages in Sydney's West

DATE: 2014-10-27 RACE: Monday night racing

A GRADE

The race started at a good tempo with small groups trying to getaway. On the fourth lap, after many surges, the group finally splintered into two groups and the main group stayed away. On the last lap Shaun McManus sneaked away from the bunch and rode solo to the finish, leaving the bunch to fight for the scraps.

B GRADE

With attacks from the gun it was clear that this race was going to be fast! Lots of one and two riders groups were going of the front of the race continuously trying to get away, but the main pack would just leave them to dangle before chasing them down for the final. A bunch finish resulted with Tim Wall taking out the sprint.

The group flew out of the blocks with a couple of riders putting the pressure on for the first two laps. Finally they ran out of steam but the group had already been split in two. The main group kept the pace on, riding together until the bunch finish
